Academics

Agriculture

The 1979-80 motto for the Future Farmers of America is "Preparing for Progress." Mr. Cantrell's agriculture classes help FFA students prepare for progress. These classes include: ag. construction, plant science, animal science, farm management, and advanced livestock. Opportunities in the Future Farmers of America are a chance to participate in contests, work in shop, and sell fruit.

J. Stephen Cantrell

Art

Mr. Marler teaches the art students how to draw. This year they have worked with clay, paints, and murals. Mr. Marler also teaches photography. The students learn the parts of a camera, the type of film to use, and how to develop pictures.

Jimmie Marler

Business

Claris Colton

Nancy Jones

The business courses offered are all very valuable for the preparation of business careers. Courses offered include Typing, Shorthand, and Clerical Office Practice (taught by Mrs. Jones) and General Business and Accounting (taught by Mrs. Colton.) For the students who don't plan on going into a business career, Typing and General Business are extremely helpful as practical living skills. Students planning on going into a business or secretarial career will find Clerical Office Practice and Accounting very helpful in their preparation.

Developmental Learning

Marjorie Sullens

Developmental Learning

Mrs. Sullens teaches the developmental learning classes. In these classes students study academics — math, English, and history. Each student receives individual help where it is needed.

Driver's Education

The driver's education class is taught by Mr. Hunt. During the first of the semester, the students learn the fundamentals of driving an automobile. Later they get actual experience of driving an automobile.

English, Speech, and Drama

Bobby Ann Dryer

Mrs. Dryer, who is known for speaking correctly, passes grammar down to the English I and II classes. She also teaches appreciation of literature and word study. You might pass by her room and hear kids giving interesting speeches or acting out roles from plays in speech and drama. Each year several of her students participate in the English Contest and the junior and senior plays that she directs.

English Literature and German

Mrs. Roller, a newcomer to H.H.S., teaches Practical English, Word Study, Poetry/Great Books, Short Stories/American Novels, and German. Vocabulary, composition, and appreciation are emphasized in the literature classes. The German class will be organizing a German Club this year. The students in Practical English reviewed grammar, wrote compositions, and gave book reports. Word Study classes learned the proper usage of a dictionary and many useful and important spelling rules.

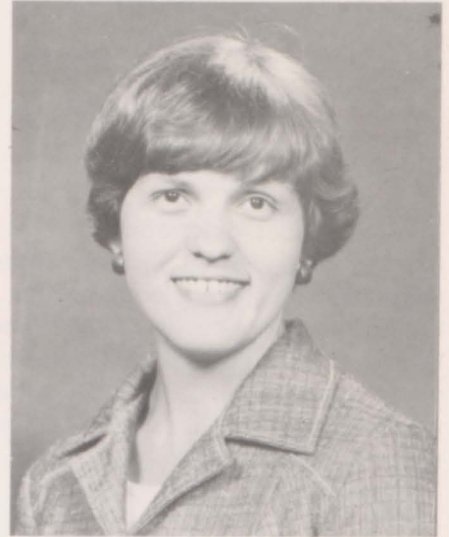

Linda Roller

Home Economics

Our home economics classes are taught by Mrs. Nelson. Home Ec. I gives guidance about sewing, cooking, and nutrition. Family Relations/Child Care helps students get ready for family life and helps young people in dating and parenthood. Foods and family health helps students to plan good meals and to improve the family's health. Clothing helps students to choose clothes that look right on them and also make their own clothes. Bachelor living helps students to get along better on their own by teaching them sewing, food nutrition, and family relations. Mrs. Nelson, also the F.H.A. sponsor, guides the students during F.H.A. meetings and has a Christmas dinner for the school board members.

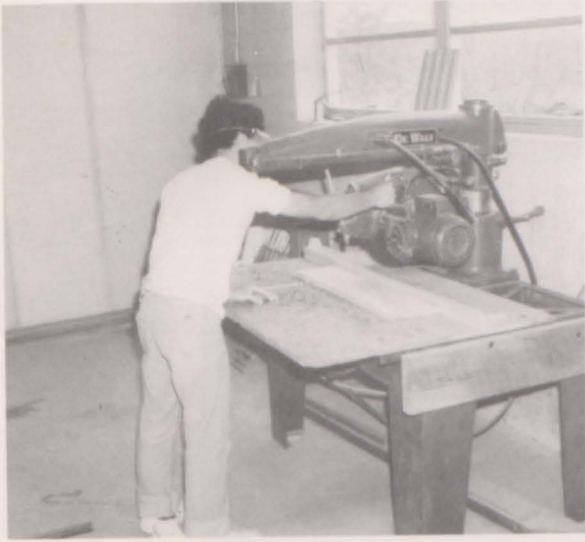

Paula Nelson

Industrial Arts

Keith Pellham

The Industrial Arts program, under the direction of Mr. Pellham, is a very productive program. The courses include general shop, woodworking, drafting, and power mechanics. After working in the classroom one-half semester, students are allowed to work on projects of their choice. These projects may be displayed at Summit Conference Contest at the end of the year.

Library

Row 1: K. Jennings, J. Todd, C. McClanahan, G. Schwartz, R. Carr, W. Russell, Row 2: D. Giffin, M. Lillard, R. Swain, K. Horn, K. Jones

Math

Mary Lea Brown

Mrs. Brown teaches math, making it interesting and enjoyable. Basic Math deals with the fundamentals, while Algebra gets involved with solving equations and working with ordered pairs. In geometry students work proofs with theorems. Algebra II is an advanced class dealing with functions and quadratic equations.

Music

The music department greatly appreciates the new band director, Miss Compton. The band showed signs of improvement at the Fall Concert and the Fall Festival parade. They received a III rating at contest. Girls Glee and Mixed Chorus, directed by Mr. Wheatley, also did a splendid job at the Fall Concert and Girls Glee received a III rating and Mixed Chorus IV rating at contest.

Lynn Compton

Terry Wheatley

Physical Education

Mr. Marcus and Mrs. Dickinson are in charge of the physical education classes. These classes are offered to any high school student. Both teachers have the students perform in exercises, war ball, prison ball, soccer, baseball, and some basketball. Mr. Hunt takes care of individual sports which offers ping-pong and tennis to the senior students. He also teaches health. In this class they learn about the human body functions.

Bill Marcus

Denny Hunt

Martha Dickinson

Social Studies

The Hartville High School has six different areas from which students can choose to learn about history. American History deals with the development of the U.S. from reconstruction to present. Missouri History has to do with our progress as a state and shows the significant role the state played in the development of our nation. Mr. Turner teaches these classes. Mr. Jones teaches World History, Geography, and Cont. Issues. World History involves the study of the growth of the world surrounding us. Geography students study about physical and cultural geography. Last is contemporary issues, focusing on current events and problems.

Vincent Turner

Gary Jones

Science

This year Mr. Lindsey has been added to the Hartville teachers staff. He has brought with him the idea of a Science Club which got off with a good start. Along with teaching physical science he also offers his guidance in Biology I and II, and Chemistry. In the spring many students are preparing for the science fair.

Eddie Lindsey

Vo-Tech

Row 1: G. Widner, P. Young, K. Young, J. Hutson, K. Arner, T. Coday Row 2: B. Lander, J. Simmons, J. Lemons, J. Willhite, D. Cottengim, R. Prock, B. Coday, R. Hamrick, B. Bonnarens, J. Hutson Row 3: B. Kelley, Bus Driver, B. Knapp, J. Young

Students taking Vo-Tech go to Lebanon High School to the vocational school there. They learn many practical skills in such fields as auto mechanics, auto body, machine shop, and refrigeration. In the classes they have classroom work first. After that, they go to shop and get actual practice in the class. In auto mechanics and auto body they learn auto maintenance and car restoration. In refrigeration they work on refrigerators and air conditioners.
